The Competition aims to promote a culture of innovation by inspiring solutions to challenges faced by Swiss companies in the Philippines through collaboration and technology. It offers young innovators a platform to co-create project proposals that tackle operational, technological, or sustainability priorities of these companies. The competition fosters collaboration between industry, academe, and government partners by encouraging knowledge exchange and research-based solution development.

The objectives of the Competition are as follows:

- Promote a culture of innovation in addressing the sustainable development goals (SDGs) of the Swiss Cultural Fund member companies and industry clusters, and co-create innovations and solutions that cater to the goals;
Industry clusters:
 - Information Technology-Business Process Management,
 - Life Sciences and Digital Health, and
 - Manufacturing and Construction.
- Provide a platform for young innovators to develop and present innovative solutions tailored to the priority SDGs of Swiss companies operating in the Philippines; and
- Encourage collaboration between industry, academe, and young Filipino thinkers to co-develop research-driven innovations and nurture globally competitive talent.

The Competition is open to undergraduate and graduate students, early researchers, entrepreneurs, and start-ups based in the Philippines with innovative ideas or projects that contribute to economic development and societal improvement. Individuals and teams may participate, with teams limited to three members, and all participants must be between 18 and 30 years old.
